

Nerd Central - Support for your home PC

Description:

Nerd Central is where the techies with a passion for customer service are. We specialise in remote support so you can get help straight away rather than wait for on-site assistance. Because we do not run a fleet of cars, we save on costs and pass the savings on to you!

When you call Nerd Central one of our helpful nerds will connect to your computer and you can watch them investigate the problem and apply the solution there and then. No waiting! We get right onto it!

If a hardware repair or upgrade is required we ship your equipment to our St Leonards, NSW service centre and ship it back to you when the job is done.
